

(Cambridge Independent Press, Friday, 4 June 1915)

A Line from Gallipoli.

Mrs. Miller, of 35 Mill-road, Cambridge, has received a letter from her brother, with the Lancashire Fusiliers, in which he says: "I was very pleased to get your 'fags', as I had not one in the world. You will have seen the papers by now, and know how we got on with our landing at Gallipoli. Many were killed there, and it was a marvel that I was not. Perhaps you know that Charlie Alderton and George Addison were both killed there, but as luck would have it I landed safely. Don't worry about me."